

Let the Sunshine In

My mom - my told me some-thing a lit - tle girl should know. It's
And when you are un - hap - py, the de - vil wears a grin. But If I for - get to say my prayers the de - vil jumps with glee. But all a - bout the de - vil and I've learned to hate him so. She oh, he starts to run - ning when the light comes pour - ing in. I he feels so aw - ful when he sees me on my knees. So said he caus - es trou - ble when you let him in the room. He will know he'll be un - hap - py 'Cause I'll ne - ver wear a frown. May - be if you're full of trou - ble and you ne - ver seem to win, Just nev - er ev - er leave you if your heart is full of gloom. So Let the Sun-shine in. Face it with a grin.

if we keep on smi - ling he'll get tired of hang-ing round.
o - pen up your heart And Let the Sun - shine in.

Smi-lers nev - er lose And Frown-ers nev - er win. So Let the Sun - shine in.

Face it with a grin. Just o - pen up your heart and Let the Sun - shine in.
